Dr. Doug Ralston and Family

Dear Dr. Ralston,

With our deepest condolences, the County of Santa Clara Board of Supervisors adjourned our meeting of May 22, 2012, in honor and memory of your wife, Kay Ralston.

While words are inadequate during a time such as this, we wish to express our sympathies for your loss. Kay was a dynamic woman of many passions, from dancing, gardening, and cooking, to her great love for her family. She often expressed her admiration for her friends and family, something that should serve as an inspiration to us all.

An active member of the Saratoga community, Kay will surely be missed by all who knew her. We mourn with you in your loss and hope that you can find comfort in your treasured memories of Kay.

Mrs. Margaret Flores Zavala

Dear Mrs. Zavala,

As a gesture of respect, the County of Santa Clara Board of Supervisors adjourned its meeting of May 22, 2012, in honor and memory of your husband, Ismael Victor Zavala, Sr. The Board of Supervisors, both individually and collectively, extends its deepest condolences for your loss.

Loved and respected in the community, Victor was an inspiration. His tireless dedication and hardworking spirit brought him great success in business and made Zavala Roofing one of the largest roofing contractors in California. His devotion to his family can be seen so clearly in your fifty-seven year marriage and your many children and grandchildren.

Victor will long be remembered in the community for his generous nature. May you and your family find solace in your cherished memories of Victor and derive some measure of comfort in the knowledge that he lives on in the hearts of everyone whose lives he touched.
