FROM: Martha Wapenski, Deputy County Executive
SUBJECT: Model for Interactions with Children Age 11 and Under

RECOMMENDED ACTION
Receive report from Office of the County Executive and the Superior Court of California, County of Santa Clara, relating to Senate Bill 439.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS
There are no fiscal implications associated with this informational report.

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATION
Senate Bill 439 (SB 439) was enacted in October 2018 and establishes the minimum age of Juvenile Court jurisdiction at 12 years of age. This means that children age 11 and under cannot be prosecuted, with the exception of specific violent offenses.

SB 439 requires counties to, on and after January 1, 2020, develop a process for determining the least restrictive responses that may be used instead of, or in addition to, the release of the minor to his or her parent or caregiver. The Court has been working with multiple stakeholders over the past several months to create a Model for Interactions with Children Age 11 and Under (Model). See attached. This purpose of this Model is to provide guidance to local law enforcement agencies in interacting with children age 11 and younger who engage in truant or delinquent behavior but who no longer fall within the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court.

The Model has been discussed with the following stakeholder groups, and their input has been included in the attached version of the Model:

- Santa Clara County Police Chiefs Association
- Juvenile Justice Commission
- Under 14 Subcommittee of the Dually Involved Youth
- Dually Involved Youth Executive and Administrative Committees
- Juvenile Justice Systems Collaborative
The protections in SB 439 affect a small number of children who are generally accused of low-level offenses. Over last 10 years, children 11 years and younger accounted for less than one percent of referrals to probation, and 65 percent were referred for misdemeanor or status offenses. Between 2015 and 2017, there were 31 system-involved children 11 years and younger:

CHILD IMPACT

SB 439 aligns California with the minimum age recommendations of national and international treatises and bodies including the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Bar Association, and the National Academy of Sciences, all recognizing the developmental vulnerabilities of young children in the context of the justice system.

SB 439 focuses on more effective responses to address childhood misbehavior using the least restrictive alternatives available: school, health and community-based services. The approach of counsel then release would be the default in the vast majority of cases.

SENIOR IMPACT

The recommended action will have no/neutral impact on seniors.

SUSTAINABILITY IMPLICATIONS

The recommended action will have no/neutral sustainability implications.

BACKGROUND

SB 439 focuses on more effective responses to address childhood misbehavior using the least restrictive alternatives available: school, health and community-based services. These guiding principles in the language of SB 439 assisted the Court and stakeholder groups to develop an effective plan for this County that keeps the Model within the spirit of the law.

CONSEQUENCES OF NEGATIVE ACTION

The Committee would not receive this informational report.

STEPS FOLLOWING APPROVAL

Forward to the Board of Supervisors for receipt of information on SB 439 and the Model for Interactions with Children Age 11 and Under.

Santa Clara County Model for Interactions with Children Age 11 and Under (SB 439)

Juvenile justice court has jurisdiction over:

1. Children 12 years of age and older; or

2. Children age 11 and under who are alleged to have committed: (1) murder; (2) rape by force, violence, duress, menace or fear; (3) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace or fear; (4) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear; or (5) sexual penetration by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear.

The purpose of this model is to provide guidance to Santa Clara County Law Enforcement agencies in interacting with children age 11 and under who engage in truant or delinquent behavior (as defined by sections 601 and 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code) but do not fall within juvenile justice court jurisdiction.

Goal:

The goal of this model is to comply with the requirements of Welfare and Institutions Code §§ 601, 602 and 602.1 as enacted by Senate Bill 439.

Policy:

In determining the appropriate disposition of the child, Santa Clara County shall balance legal mandates, community safety, and the best interests of the child. The default response shall be to release the child to their parent, guardian, or caregiver. The least restrictive responses may be used instead of, or in addition to, the child’s release.

To ensure the safety and well-being of children, the County will pursue appropriate measures to serve and protect a child only as needed, avoiding any intervention whenever possible, and using the least restrictive alternatives through available school-, health-, and community-based services.

Procedures:

Officers shall ascertain the age of the child using department protocols.

Officers shall release the child to a parent, guardian, family member or caregiver, unless:

- The child is a victim of abuse or neglect, there is an immediate danger of physical or sexual abuse, the child cannot be safely returned to the parent or guardian, or the physical environment in which the child is found poses an immediate threat to the child’s health or safety. In these situations, the officer should call the DFCS 24/7 hotline for Joint Response: (833) SCC-KIDS (722-5437).

1 The terms “child” or “children” as used hereinafter refer to children age 11 and under who engage in truant or delinquent behavior but do not fall within juvenile justice court jurisdiction.
• The child has an immediate need of medical care. The officer should take the child to the closest hospital or trauma center.

• The child is reported missing from another jurisdiction. The officer should call the National Crime Information Center 24/7 hotline: (304) 625-2000.

• There is an active protective custody warrant for the child from another jurisdiction. The officer should call Child Abuse and Neglect Center (CANC) at (833)722-5437 for Joint Response.

• The child presents a harm to themselves or others. The officer should follow the policies for temporary involuntary commitment of a minor (WIC §5585) (§5150 for minors) on a 72-hour hold.

• When parents, guardians, family members or caregivers are unavailable or unwilling to accept the child, Santa Clara County Law Enforcement agencies should refer the child to the following resources on a 24-hour basis:

  ➢ Bill Wilson Center
    SOS Crisis Hotline (24/7) (408) 278-2585
    Areas served: San Jose, Santa Clara, Milpitas, Campbell, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno, Sunnyvale, Saratoga, Cupertino, Los Altos, Los Altos Hill, Mountain View, and unincorporated areas North, East and West of San Jose City limits.

  ➢ Community Solutions
    SOS Crisis Hotline (24/7) (408) 683-4118
    Areas Served: Morgan Hill, San Martin, Gilroy and unincorporated areas South of San Jose City limits.

Unless necessary for officer or public safety, officers should not securely detain or handcuff children age 11 and under.

Children who do not fall within juvenile court jurisdiction shall not be fingerprinted for purposes of entry into the Criminal Justice Information Control (“CJIC”) database.

Children age 11 and under should only be transported in a police vehicle:

• to protect the safety of the child;
• when no alternative transportation is available; or
• to carry out the least restrictive alternative (for example, if no parent, guardian, family member or caregiver is available or willing to accept the child, police may transport the child to a facility or service provider).

Victims of crimes committed by children age 11 and under should be referred to the Victim Services Unit of the Santa Clara County District Attorney’s Office (408) 295-2656.

DATE: January 9, 2020
TO: Public Safety and Justice Committee
FROM: Jeffrey D Draper, Director, Facilities and Fleet
SUBJECT: Report on Jail Construction Projects

RECOMMENDED ACTION
Receive report from the Facilities and Fleet Department relating to jail construction projects.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS
There are no fiscal implications related to receiving this report.

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATION
At the August 27, 2019 (Item No. 23) Board of Supervisors (Board) Meeting Supervisor Ellenberg requested that Administration provide a report to the Public Safety and Justice Committee (PSJC) relating to jail construction projects. The report was to include the number of Supplemental Work Allowance (SWA) change requests, contract increases, lengthened completion times, and cost variances to assist in identifying systematic challenges that need to be addressed.

Increases to SWA and Contract Amount
When the County awards a construction contract it is based on either the lowest bid or best value proposal for a fixed scope of work. While delivering the project, there are inevitably unforeseen conditions that result in the negotiation of construction contract change orders. These need to be addressed quickly, or the contractor may incur delays and additional costs that will ultimately be paid by the County.

To control these costs, and keep the project as close to the original delivery schedule as possible, the Board has historically approved an SWA or additional spending authority against a construction contract. The SWA enables the Administration to efficiently and effectively negotiate and approve necessary change orders.

As outlined in Attachment 1, six projects have had increases to their SWA’s and total encumbrances after the initial award. The largest change was for Project 263-CP16003 “New Main Jail South/Main Jail South Demolition”, where an additional $2 million SWA was requested for the current demolition construction contract because there was an opportunity to save money for the overall project by installing a permanent generator now instead of leasing a generator during the construction phase of the project. However, to execute the construction of the new generator during the initial phase FAF had to utilize funds initially allocated to the New Jail portion of the work, resulting in a $2 million increase in the SWA allocation. Unforeseen circumstances, such as damaged plumbing within walls, and added scope, such as the installation of cuff ports on doors, and re-design work have been also resulted in increases to the SWA’s on other jail projects.

Longer Completion Times in Jail Construction

A great deal of focus has been placed on the condition of the County’s correctional facilities over the past few years, resulting in numerous projects currently in various phases of construction. These projects include adding suicide prevention measures, American with Disabilities Act (ADA) improvements, and the construction of a new jail. As jails have a high level of security and are in operation around the clock, construction within their walls is complicated and inefficient due to the need to modify construction workflows and minimize disrupting operations. Multiple challenges that impact construction efficiency include items such as:

- Obtaining daily access into a secured facility
- Moving construction materials and personnel within the jail
- Limited availability of space to execute work in an occupied facility
- Unexpected work stoppages due to jail operations and emergencies

As seen from our current ADA work at Main Jail North and Elmwood, spare housing units are limited and because of this construction contract times are extended to accommodate the availability of only a few housing pods at a time. Due to many competing projects vying for limited swing space to relocate inmates, projects need to be carefully prioritized and resourced to ensure the jails can continue to operate safely and in compliance with all regulations.

Costs to Assist in Identifying Systematic Challenges

Because the jails are dynamic occupied facilities, FAF employs a three-week look ahead construction schedule to anticipate potential problems. During the design process, FAF has tried to reconcile the needs of the Sheriff’s Office/Department of Correction, but personnel changes have led to adjustments in the scope of work for various jail projects resulting in delays and additional costs. FAF and the CEO are working with the appropriate departments to try and minimize unnecessary operational changes in service delivery, which often require capital building changes and can become costly to the County. Additionally, as discussed in past legislative files to the Board, work is taking place to not bill the capital project in the future for the escort costs as those costs are not built into the project and could potentially result in an increased supplemental work allowance. Looking forward, the Administration has again asked the Sheriff’s Office to reconsider escort needs as there are many major construction projects still in the pipeline.

CHILD IMPACT
The recommended action will have no/neutral impact on children and youth.

SENIOR IMPACT
The recommended action will have no/neutral impact on seniors.

SUSTAINABILITY IMPLICATIONS
The recommended action will have no/neutral sustainability implications.

CONSEQUENCES OF NEGATIVE ACTION
The PSJC would not receive the report at this time.
